

LeDeR action from learning report

Making health care better for people with a learning disability and autistic people in England

Easy Read

These documents are about work that NHS teams are doing in England.

The work is to try to make health care services better for people with a learning disability and autistic people.

The 7 documents tell you more about each piece of work and how they have helped people.

Getting the support you need

Remember, if you feel unwell or notice any changes in your health, make sure you:

- Speak to health care staff as soon as you can

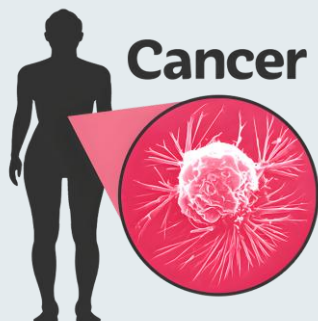

- Tell someone you trust

What are these documents about

1. Supporting healthy weight

2. Making cancer services better

3. When someone does not go to an appointment

4. Reducing deaths from epilepsy

What is inside this report?

5. Waiting for planned care

6. Reasonable adjustments in community dental services

7. Fire safety for people using skin cream